gie a Follies girl wife and endowed Jessica Brown with a 276-year-old title.

The marriage was delayed an hour-and four minutes because of the late arrival of the bride's mother and erstwhile chaperon. Mrs. A. W. Stark.

Within the offices of Mr. Jordan, there was all the quiet dignity of the blue drawing-room of Ethie Castle, over which Jessica is now mistress. The dancing divorcee's union with the Scotch earl was far more simple and sheltered than any stroll across the runway in a Follies production. But the girl seemed more nervous as she said "I will" than she ever had been when she took an encore at a theatrical premiere.

Huntington Drive is the Main Street through the city of San Marino, which is only twenty-five minutes from Los Angeles.

You have driven through it many times, and were particularly interested in looking at the famous and beautiful Huntington Hotel and Home.

Did you realize you were driving through an incorporated city—A city having no Publicity Committee, Chamber of Commerce, Apartments, Bungalow Courts, Clothes Pressing Emporiums, Lunch Counters, or anything except homes? And yet near enough to shops and markets so that they are a convenience and not an annoyance.

The schools of San Marino are an expression of the ideals which will continue to attract the sort of people who have made this environment. Both grammar and High schools with free bus transportation.

On Huntington Drive and located in a most desirable part of the city of San Marino—Property that has been in the Van Nuys family for a generation, is now being offered by the owners direct.

> Hackley and Kelly to Hook Up Again at Hollywood Boxing Arena

Bobby Harper, the Portland junior lightweight who lays claim to the Coast title, will appear in the principal attrac-tion at the American Legion Hollywood arena tonight with Sallor Ashmore. All of the boxing critics hereabouts are warm in their praise of Matchmaker Frank Crowley warm in their praise of Matchmaker Frank Crowley for lining up such an attractive bout.

Harper has bested all rivals in the Northwest and against Joe Benjamin boxed a draw. He is in splendid fettle for a real battle, having yesterday completed a vigorous training siege at the Lyceum Club gym. Ashmore, too, is in fine condition. The gob is counident of a victory tonight, despite the heavy odds placed against him by the wiseacres.

Jimmy Hackley and "Knock-out" Kelly will go to it again in the semi-wind-up. These battlers met two weeks ago and Mackley gave a great exhibition when he snatched the victory from the Irish lad.

The special event which brings together Joe Medlino and Jack Lewis is another rematch. Last time out Lewis took a well-cerned decision over Medino. Joe is trained so diligently that he expects to reverse the verdict tonight.

Other bouts listed follow:

Alex McDonald vs. Frankie De Marie, Packey McMullen vs. Joe White and Tommy Owens vs. Toner Fuente.

AUSTRALIA TO PLAY HOST TO FOREIGNERS

MELBOURNE, July 19.—the Australian lawn tennis council is considering inviting the United States and France and possibly either Great Britain of Spain each to send a team to Astralia for the tennis season. It is especially desired that Suzanne Lenglen, the woman champion, shall be a member of the French team. It is understood the council will offer half the profits of the tour or all the expenses of the team whichever amount is greater.

Frank Shellenback Has One Very Bad Inning

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS

Beating the tar out of San Francisco seems to be the king of outdoor sports in these parts. Anyway, Los Angeles made it three straight over the softening Beals, 4 to 2, Tom Hughes taking the measure of reat Shea.

Tom thoroughly dominated the situation except for a slight sinking spell in the eighth frame, when San Francisco did its only scoring. J. Carlisle Smith again played wonderful ball. He seems to be what the Angels needed, Hood, with three singles and a walk, led the attack.

The largest Thursday crowd in several yaars was out pulling for Krug and his relivenated team.

George Alify (Cupid) Pulmans gave another great phadam and a ling. This act denoted grief and disappointment. When the Seals lose, Mr. Putnam subsists solely on his Adam's apple Serviary, Andy Ferguson, who accompanied the Sals, had completely devoucid his Adam's apple by the secondday, and is now starving to death right in the midst of plenty, simply because he has no appetite left for anything else in the hour of defeat.

The sport of slapping Sheas started in the first inning. J. Carslist Crnith, new red-headed, redholooded third-sacker of the Angelsbegan it with a left-field single Hughes held Kildaff to a box roler, throwing Pete out at first, while preventhing any advance on the bases. Here it was that McCabe interposed a massive bicep into the pastime. He camped under a deep fly by Dee Walsh. With the catch, Waner was off for the plate, Billy uncoiled and the throw came into Baldwin's mitt so fast and true that he must have thought Hughes was pitching to him. Waner was stopped several feet short of the plate for the completion of a double play that retired the visitors. The crowd almost cheered its tonsils loose.

third. Griggs cut loose a double which Kelly started to come in and meet. This was the mistake of Joe's life. By deft footwork he was able to draw his legs out of the way just in Mme to keep them from being knocked back against the fence. Had this nappened, the thud of Joe's heels rapping against the boards would have been long remembered. Sandow completed the circuit on Hood's single and sacrifice fly by McAuley.

Ford Owners -are not looking for cheap oils that he's off cheap oil for life! What he wants is economy oil.

A nation-wide survey has just disclosed these significant facts: Only one Ford owner in ten is actually looking for a cheap oil. The other nine Ford owners are "looking for results."

"Results" mean high grade oil; and high grade oil means Veedol Fordol. Now you know the reason why thousands of Ford owners

The Ford owner himself says, on the Coast are nitting the high hills in high; starting, stopping and backing without a trace of jerky chatter; and getting more miles per gallon of gas and oil.

Veedol Fordol is the answer.
You owe it to your pocketbook to try this Eastern economy oil, made exclusively for the Ford. It succeeds where other oils fail.

Start using Veedol Fordol today. Buy a 5 gallon can at the next black and orange sign.

the feativities.

The only headliner to appear so far this summer is the famous Mrs. Jean Nash, whose orgies of extravagance were recounted at length last winter when her husband brought suit for divorce in London. The blue-eyed, fair-haired Mrs. Nash is ensconced in the Royal Hotel. Her immediate background consists of a maid in charge of a little yellow dog known as a Griffon, which looks like an insect and yaps at everyone. The rear is brought up by a young Egyptian noble called Sabit Bey.

Although the dog often is left at home the Bey goes with the owner wherever she goes. The casino sees them nightly—they are the one star attraction of the season to date. Each day reveals fresh splendors of the Nash wardrobe. She has not yet appeared twice in the same gown. French friends of the Bey describe him as an able kindly boy.

Although Chiros has not yet

Bey describe him as an able, kindly boy.

Although Chiros has not yet opened, the pigeon-shooting season now is well under way. The leading shots of Europe have signed up and thousands of pigeons are ready to lay down their lives in the name of so-called sport.

At La Potiniere, where all Deauville flocks for the noontime cocktail, there is such a jam over the week-end that getting a drink served is as difficult as winning at baccarat. On Sunday the tables were placed so far out in the street it was necessary to rope off the roadway on account of cocktails and traffic being a bad mixture.

About the only bathing beauties to be found here are on picture postcards. Nevertheless, a few misguided visitors continue to come here suffering under the delusion that the place is a seaside resort. Thirty or forty of these take to the waves daily. The authorities are doing all they can against overpowering odds to make swimming more popular.

Coast Artillery Practices on Ship Target

Results of Two Days' Firing is Tabulated

Thirty-two Shots Discharged at Moving Mark

BY MAJ. JOSEPH P. McQUAIDE Practice firing with regular aminition was resumed yesterday at Fort MacArthur by the Coast Artillery of American National Guard. The day before, the mortan batteries were worked, under the direction of Maj. Gastil of San Diego. Yesterday it was the big rifles that made the noise. The was under the direction of

Maj. Hardy of San Francisco.
Yesterday was an ideal one for heavy gun practice, especially for visibility. The problem before the men was assumed to be an enemy superdreadnaught of the type and class of the U.S.S. California attempting to make a run past Fort tempting to make a run past Fort MacArthur, This vessel was represented by a pyramidal target towed by the tug "Coehran" at medium range. The mission for the men was adjustment of fire with the view of destroying the target.

As on the day before on the mortar batteries, thirty-two shots were fired by the guns yesterday. The results of the two days' practice are being tabulated and will be known ere camp is broken.

Guardsmen of today take their work seriously. This is due primarily to the encouragement and instruction embodied in the policy of the War Department. National Guard encampments no longer offer the hilarious times they did of yore. They are remembered by those who attend them as periods of strenuous work of eight hours a day added to which is the time devoted to other calls, such as guard and police duty and the care of quarters. This applies to the infantry as well as Coast or Field Artillery.

Imperial Growers Cash in on Bumper Melon Crop have been shipped to date this season. Southern Pacific estimates place the final crop, which will be completed early next week, at 12,500 cars, or an amount equivalent to 200 long trains.

All the cars placed end to end would make a train 120 miles in length, the Southern Pacific reports say, and the crates of cantaloupes in them, if lined along the rails, would stretch 1818 miles.

The carloading statisties point toward increased consumption of the Imperial melons on the Pacific Coast in comparison with past seasons. The amount shipped to Pacific Coast points this year is seatimated at 1700 cars, which compares with 1210 in 1922 and 850 in 1921. The Eastern movement is practically unchanged, this season's shipments running about 10,800 carloads against 10,138 in 1922.

The Imperial Valley cantaloupe

The statement, shows working capital of $825,286 with $952,330 of current labilities. On a per share basis, the working capital is equivalent to approximately 61 cents on the stock outstanding.

COTTON STOCKS Showing the rapid depletion of the world's stocks of cotton, the Galveston (Tex.) # My EyesWere Opened ~ after Investigation"

HIS was the statement made by a present stockholder of the Los Angeles Income Properties, Inc.

This man is a shrewd investment buyer. He has always made substantial profits from his securities BECAUSE he makes thorough investigation before purchasing.

When the Los Angeles Income Properties, Inc., announced their offering of cumulative participating preferred stock, he immediately sent for one of their representatives—he knew income properties in Los Angeles to be the safest, and one of the most profitable forms of investment.

After receiving the full details of the participating financial plan—his answer was a very substantial subscription.

Los Angeles Income Properties, Inc., are builders, owners and operators of income properties. They have perfected an organization, whose knowledge of income properties is without parallel in this city. The profits to be derived from their present offering of cumulative participating preferred shares at $100.00 will open the eyes of every investor.

Make your investigation today which incurs no obligation on your part.

Belmont .70 SUGAR PROFITS THE remarkable earnings of the Cuban Dominican Sugar Company and its subsidiary, the SANTA ANA SUGAR COMPANY, have again demonstrated that Cuban sugar production is one of the world's most prosperous industries. Current net assets of the parent Company in October, 1922, were $3,215,645, which increased in the seven months to April 30, 1923, to $7,267,-309. Net Earnings of the SANTA ANA SUGAR COMPANY alone amounted to over $1,100,000, as against a bonded indebtedness of only $3,225,000. We are offering a limited amount of SANTA ANA SUGAR COMPANY First Mortgage 8% Bonds, Due 1931, priced at 98 and Interest to yield about 8.35%. The actual market value of the equity behind this $3,225,000 issue (as expresented by the Common and Preferred Stock of the Cuban Dominican Sugar Company listed on the New York Stock Exchange) is in excess of

We believe these bonds offer conservative investors an opportunity to participate in a highly preferred way in the remarkable profits in sugar.

Rural Credits Banks Likely to Correct Situation

Congress as a Menace to Safe and Sane Business

Bankers Look With Favor on Legislative Moratorium

BY ARTHUR D. WELTON

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCE.]
[Copyright, 1923, Public Ledge.]
CHICAGO, July 19.—A committee of the Illinois Bankers' Association has made a report that the ciation has made a report that the most serious problem confronting the farmer arises from lack of means to pay his debts. The ordinary, or scap-box, reaction to this statement is that the farmer does not get the price he should for his products. If he did he could pay his debts. The Bank Association's committee, however, opines that the farmer has been overcapitalized. When money was plentiful—and it is now reasonably plentiful—bankers and money lenders permitted the farmer to borrow beyond his normal credit responsibility. It is not lack of credit now, but too much some time ago, that makes the farmer's problem.

The blame if any rests with ago, that makes the farmer's problem.

The blame, if any, rests with the bankers and farmers themselves. They may both excuse or justify their conduct. They may assert, for instance, that they were misguided. They heard from all sides that the farmer could not get adequate credit accommodations. If they read the Congressional Record, or any part of it, they were informed that the Federal Reserve Board forced the liquidation of prices for farm products. They saw the War Finance Corporation revived, the Intermediate Credit Banks organized and other things done to make credit sasier and more plentiful for the farmer.

Under much circumstances it was

IS CONGRESS A MENACE?

IS CONGRESS A MENACE?

Is Congress the real menace that it seems? In the periods between sessions heretofore there have been organized afforts of many kinds to lay a foundation for action by Congress. Propagandists have prepared assaults designed to force Congress to do certain things. But during this closed season have come the first plans to force Congress to do nothing.

The demand for a suspension of law-making is grewing more and more pronounced. A hundred rall-roads, through their presidents and officers are crying "Leave us alone." They are being supported by many organizations of business men and bankers. A week ago the American Bankers. Lague was launched. It is reported to have 9000 members. It is to provide the medium through which "the bankers of the nation may express their views collectively on the ajonomic problems of the government, especially on the tariff, taxation and fiscal poficies." Che of the first activities of the league will be to "oppose a general revision of the tariff law by the Tariff Commission."

The railroads and the bankers are followed by the manufacturers. They are already organized. The National Industrial Council has appealed to them to bring pressure on Congress through education of the public. They are requested to urgs the budget system for the smaller units of government, to prevent the enactment of a soldier bonus law, to work for the amendment of the immigration law so as to permit the entry into the country of selected groups, to obtain a legislative moratorium for the railroads, and to lower taxes or, at least to avert higher taxes.

NEW YORK, July 19.—The Evening World today makes a great mystery as follows: "D. W. Griffith, et al., is planning great things for the future. In fact, in things for the tuture. In tact, in the immediate offing but not close enough for any definite announce-ment, lies the biggest thing yet done in pictures by this producer-done in pictures by this producer-director.

"We are at liberty to state, however, that Griffith's next big picture will be made under the auspices of one of the best known and largest organizations in America and that he intends to spend more than a year in the shooting alone.

"For a time Griffith was conferring with representatives of a big English syndicate that wants him to direct a series of films depicting the true history of India, but it seems there has been some hitch to the plans and now we are given to understand he will focus his productional and directorial energy on a big picture that will be more typically American than The Birth of a Nation."

The City Council will refuse to adopt any franchise for a subway station under Pershing Square that interferes in any particular with the present appearance of the park. This was decided yesterday by unanimous vote.

The Council, on motion of Mr. Allan, adopted a resolution declaring that the roof of the subway structure must be ten feet below the surface of the park, and that the entrances must be on the edges of the park.

When the discussion started in the Council it soon was apparent that the sentiment was unanimously against making any exception to the soning system, not merely because of the merits of the present case but because if 't were allowed the whole system would go to smash. The city is districted into the following classifications: A zone, residential; B sone, apartment-houses and residences; C zone, business; D zoni, restricted manufacturing; E zone unrestricted manufacturing. In the present case it is proposed to remove the Wilshire Boulevard block from B to C zone.

"It would be ridiculous to hold.

The British find the sentiment growing in Germany that Communism offers the only escape from absolute annihilation. The German press is beginning to point to the effectiveness with which the Russians repelled all attacks from the outside under a Communist administration.

Thoughtful Englishmen know to what goal such a policy leads. If Germany follows Russia into Communism the Communism menace will become still more sin-every four minutes and we are further advised that three out of every four fires are preventable and unnecessary. If we built as substantially as they do in France or England or if we were as careful as the people are in Holland we might run all day without an alarm of fire. But we build simsily, we leave a lot of rubbish lying around and we are reckless with our matches. That is why we are forever telephoning for the firemen.

If one may judge by the utterances of the political leaders of all parties in Great Britain and by the leading articles in the British newspapers, public opinion in En-gland is almost unanimously in favor of breaking away from France and making an independent effort to arrest the destructive rocess that is now taking place in Germany and in other parts of Europe.

England is seriously, almost hysterically, alarmed over the disappearance of the Ger-man government as "a tangible and responsible entity." During the last three months the English have been studying the German situation from the inside. The leading news-papers and the financiers have their personal representatives in the great German industrial centers. The reports agree that the present German government is not strong enough, not wise enough, not courageous enough to bring order out of the existing confusion.

They see but two issues: A Communis Germany that will defy Europe as Com-munist Russia has defied it, or a military Germany that will make alliances with friendly neighbors and plunge Europe into another disastrous war. They find the war spirit in Germany still alive; and they find the Communist spirit increasing daily in intensity and viciousness.

The leading newspapers agree that a condition has arisen under which France and England united cannot pre' rve the peace of Europe, unless they adopt a policy diametrically opposite from that which they have followed during the last six months. Military force cannot prevent the collapse of orderly government in Germany. It can only hasten the collapse; such is the collapse. only hasten the collapse; such is the opin on of the British press.

HOW IT STARTED

BY JEAN NEWTON

"My Old Kentucky Home" Stephen C. Foster is renowned to pos ity for his scores of popular songs which have lived since éarly nineteenth-century days and by their superfority have come to be regarded almost as standard American masic. But it has been remarked that even to versatile a composer must have had some syeciac inspiration for a song like "My Old Kentucky Home."

And he did. It was the same source of inspiration which produced the famous negro melodies of "Old Folks at Home" and "Massa's in the Cold, Cold Ground." For Foster, born in Pennsylvania, was not settlement, nor is it known that he at any time lived in the southern setting that one.

time lived in the southern setting that one naturally connects with these songs.

Wis inspiration for the negro songs is said to have come indirectly, so to speak, from the then new type of minstrel or burnt-cork entertainers whose impersonations of southern darkies were then in great vogue in the Middle and Northern States.

It was after a concert in Baltimore, while the banjo strains were still ringing in his dears, that he is said to have composed his first negro song. This met with great success and was followed by one fine melody after another, the greatest of which is probably "My Old Kentucky Home."

UNCONSCIOUS HUMORIS

There are not pearly enough unconscious humorists in the world. A lot of the conscious ones ought to be knocked that way—and kept that way. Maybe then they would occasionally be funny.

I have just finished skimming a so-called humorous weekly. I skimmed it thoroughly, but didn't find any cream. There wasn't any, it was mostly made up of thin, sourish matter more like buttermilk. It took a number of shots at prohibition, but the percentage of humor in them was strictly Volsteadian. The humorous weeklies have been being funny at the expense of prohibition for several years now, and the strain is telling on them. It would seem that they are edited entirely with the idea of appealing to the bootleggers.

Of course, the idea of agiting prohibition with dishwater seems comical in itself. But it grows old after a few years. Even the humorous weeklies might find a change advantageous.

Sad as so many of the conscious humorists who write are, however, they are ray and enlivening compared to those whose unfailing sparkle is their leading social asset. The boys who count that moment lost in which no snappy sentence slips off their tongues may do fairly well for an evening, but beware of them for camping-party companions.

"TEST FOR DOROTHY"

MARY GOES BEFORE CAMERA IN ELIZABETHAN GARB

By Edwin Schallert ik brocaded costume, Priscilla cap and a few clicks of the motion-picture camera yesterday virtually settled the immediate professional future of Mary Pickford. She made her first test for "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall," which means that she has just about decided on this as her next feature production. She has long contemplated transcribing the Charles Major story to the screen, but this is the first tangible evibut this is the first tangible evidence that she intends to carry out her intention in the near future. The brocaded costume is one of those which Mary wears in the production. Tests are to be made with various other Elizabethan sartorial creations in the next few days. In fact, all the preliminaries for the making of the picture are being carried out; even the sets will probably shortly be under construction for plans are now being drayn. Miss Pickford has in mind a director, but has not yet announced his name.

Immediately after completing "Rosita," Miss Pickford considered soveral other stories. For a time she thought of giving up the contemplated "Dorothy Vernon" altogether. But now all indications are that the project will go through definitely.

are that the project will go through definitely.

The test was made under the supervision of Mary's mother, Mrs. Charlotte Pickford, with Douglas Fairbanks as an audience, and was surrounded with more ceremony than such things usually are, owing to the pretentjounness of the picture as planned.

The probabilities are that the actual camera work on the picture will begin in about a month or six weeks, as there still remain the details of casting.

Actors Fund Blowout

This is the big day for motionpicture stars at the Motion Picture playing the canine hero in Mr. Roach's production of Jack London's "Call of the Wild," which has its world premiere at the California Sunday.

In this story Buck is the leader in a team of seventeen dogs. The other sixteen are regular Alaskan huskles. The owner thought that they would easily outrun Buck, because of their light weight, but the St. Bernard could run as fast as any of them, and faster.

The huskles are a quarrelsome lot, and several times started to fight with Buck, all sixteen piling onto him at one time. But in a few minutes Buck had rid himself of the pack and was ready for more. After several of these fights Mr. Treech, the trainer, mussled him. The huskles, instead of respecting their enemy's pilght, took advantage of him and again piled on top of the dog. But the animal's strength is marvelous; even with the muszle Buck managed to throw them off.

After that the rest of the pack kept at a respectful distance, and seemingly admitted that'the was the world's heavyweight champion.

Wright's popular novel.

Two days ago John Bowers, playing the leading role in the production, was supposed to "buildog" the steer. Instead, the star caught his foot in the stirrup of his saddle and broke a leg.

Members of the company were so anxious to render Bowers assistance that all thoughts of the Arizons steer were cast to the four winds, with the result that the animal wandered away from the camera's range and from the sight of the attendants.

To date no trace of the animal has been found, and the property men of the film company have been searching Griffith Park for two days. The steer is about two years old, has a Cross-Bar brand on his hind leg, and is of a light brown color.

VENICE BOULEVARD ASKED

Beach City Wants Sixteenth Street Cut Through and to be Made Thoroughfare in Its Honor

The Board of Trustees of Venice, following the suggestion of the Venice Planning Commission, resterday asked the City Council to extend Sixteenth street through Culver City into Venice, and to call it Venice Boulevard. The Venice Trustees already have asked the Board of Supervisors to designate the road that parallels the Venice short line of the Pacific Electric Railway as Venice Boulevard, and so if the city sees fit to change the name of Sixteenth street, Venice Boulevard

Reduced

This is the second request of the kind reaching the Council in the past week. Property owners on Sunset Boulevard have petitioned to have that thoroughfare's name changed to Hollywood Boulevard, so as to make a continuous Hollywood Boulevard known as Bixteenth ending June 30. The totals red that in a year's time both ris and imports had more than led and that Los Angeles and the led that and more than led that Los Angeles and the led that and more than led that Los Angeles and the los Angeles and the led that led tha Thelma Rarick was a combination Amason and cave woman. Lawrence A. Rarick said in a divorce complaint filed yesterday. Butcher knives were her favorite weapons, he says, although occasionally she would use an empty whisky bottle on him. Frequent beatings at her hands were his lot, he set forth, and said he listened to more death threats than were good for his peace of mind. One night, he says, she took a whisky bottle to bed with her and consumed the contents during the wee morning hours. When she awoke, he asserts, she proceeded to berate him and then to smash the bottle on his head. States Commissioner Long and fur-nished $5000 bail for his appear-ance in Federal court on a narcotic charge. Ercole Maglione, arrest-ed at the same time, on a similar charge, also furnished bail for his appearance. The two men will probably be arraigned some time next week.

MAL ANSWER TO HEART SUIT

His rejection of Miss Helen Olson's proposal of marriage was blamed by J. H. Crumrine yesterday for the $75,000 breach of promise suit filed by Miss Olson several days ago. In his answer, Mr. Crumrine says that Miss Olson came to his office on June 26, last, and proposed marriage. He says he refused and that two days later the suit was filed, Crumrine denied all of Miss Olson's charges, stating that he never asked her to marry him, never set a wedding date and that the two never lived together as husband and wife. The complaint was prepared by Attorneys Shaw
